Introducing The Collector's Value Guide™

Welcome to the Collector's Value Guide™ to the Cherished Teddies® collection! Here you can meet all the characters created by Priscilla Hillman. Find out what crazy adventures those teddies will get into next, and which pieces have gone into "hibernation." Here you can also find the most up-to-date information on collecting, selling and trading your Cherished Teddies products and figurines, and learn the value of your collection.

But it's not just a list of teddies. You can also read the artist's fascinating story in our spotlight on Priscilla Hillman. And discover how you can become a part of the Cherished Teddies family through the official collector's club.

If you're a collector, a trader or just a lover of Cherished Teddies characters, this Value Guide is your passport to a charming world of teddies who will sing, dance, play and frolic right into your heart before you know it!

Look Inside To Find:

- A behind-the-scenes glimpse into the adorable world of the teddies
- All the latest figurines for the new millennium
- An inside look at the life of artist Priscilla Hillman
- Fresh ideas on how to display your collection
- And much, much more!

The Tale Of The Teddies

A serious back injury turned out to be a blessing in disguise for former children's book illustrator Priscilla Hillman. During her recovery, Hillman, who has always been passionate about art and nostalgia, dreamt up a number of classic teddie bear characters to help her pass the time. From there an idea was born.

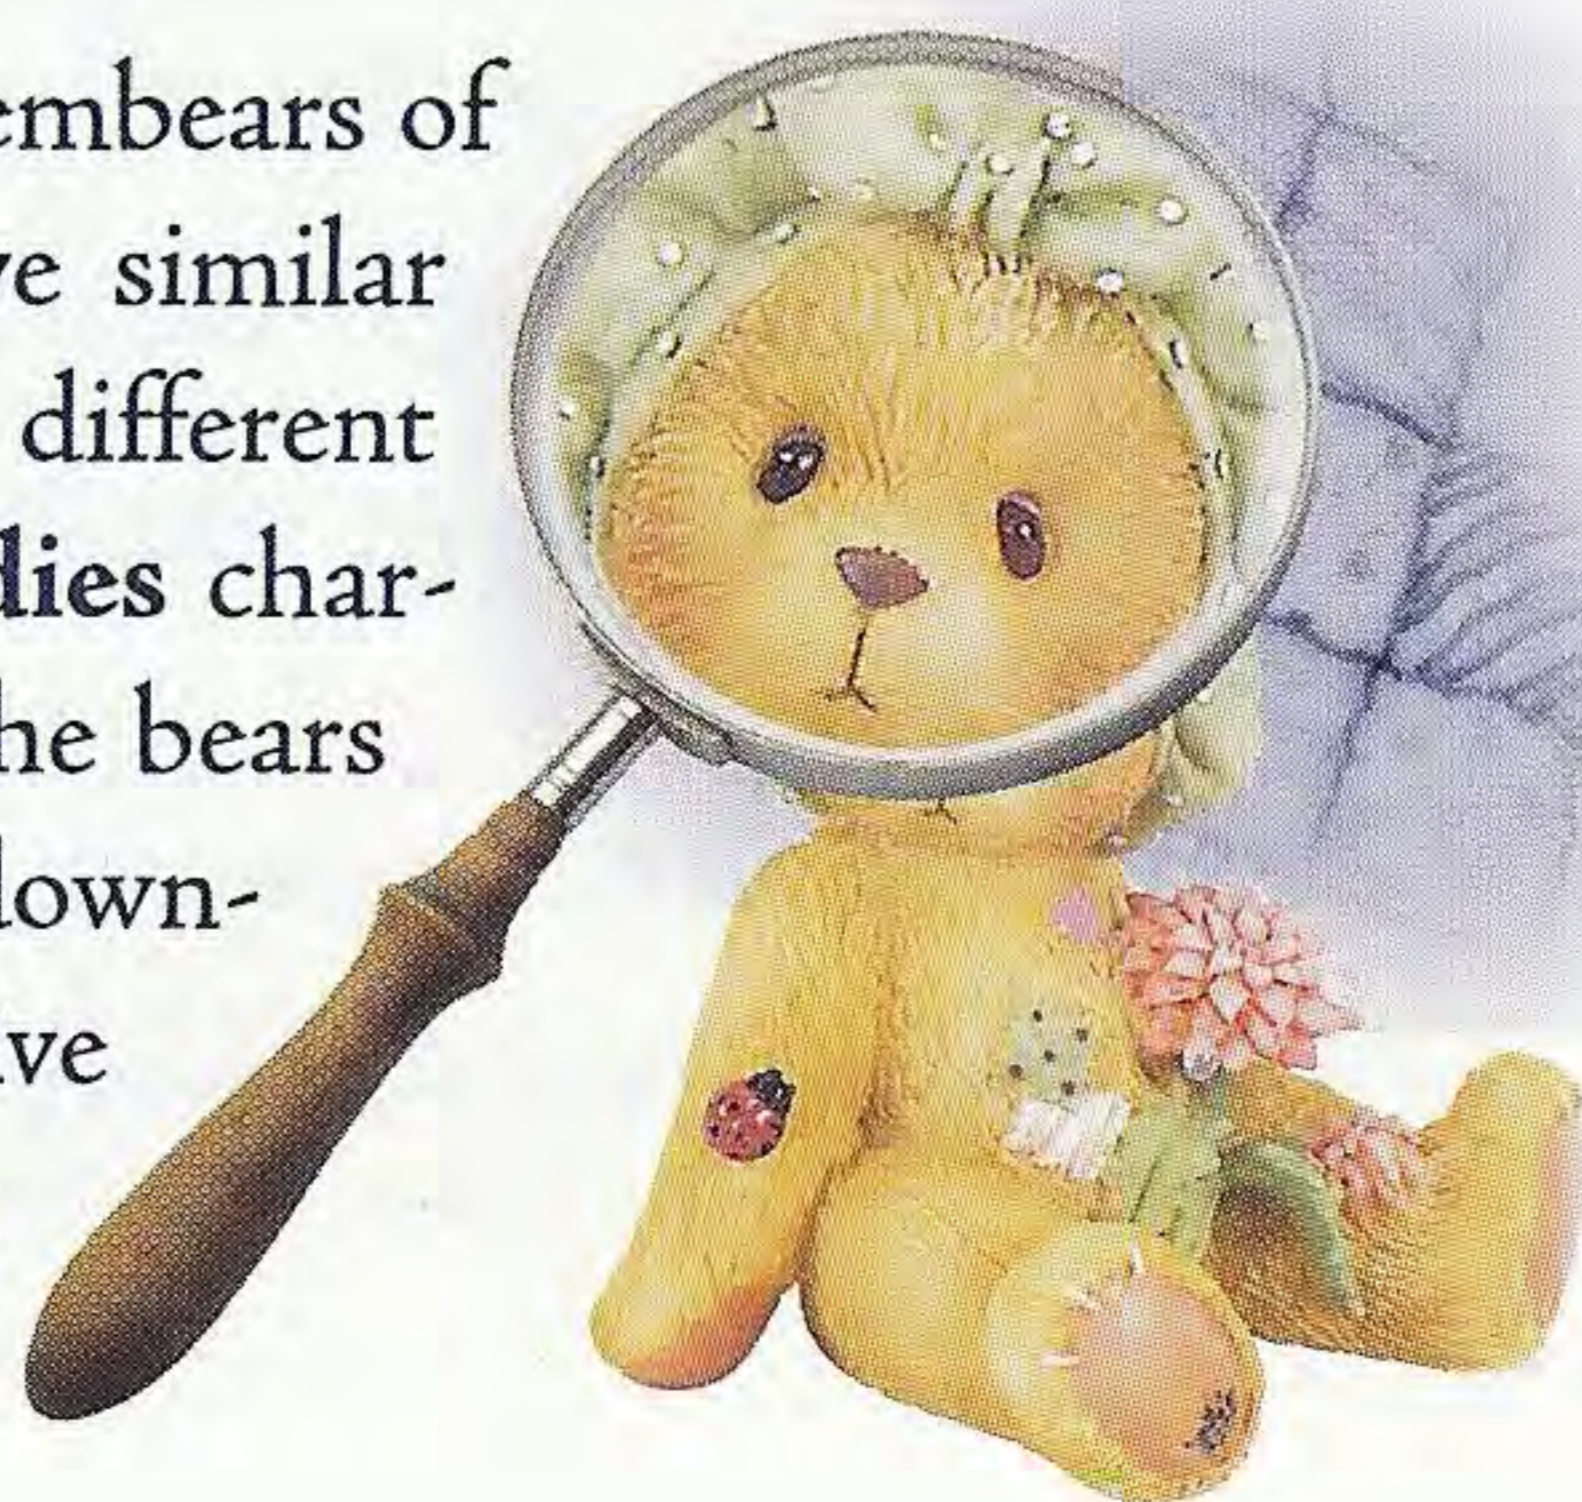

Hillman created illustrations of these characters when she left the hospital and sent them to Enesco in 1991. Her drawings caught the attention of Founding Chairman Eugene Freedman, who knew he must bring Hillman's illustrations to life through a series of resin figurines. One year later, the Cherished Teddies collection became much more than just an idea.

The line was an immediate success, and Hillman was presented in 1993 with the prestigious "Collectible of the Year" award from the National Association of Limited Edition Dealers (NALED). This award was soon followed by the group's "Artist of the Year" award to Priscilla Hillman in 1994. The combination of these two major industry awards brought Hillman and her adorable Cherished Teddies figurines instant publicity. Since then the artist has never looked back.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

As with most families, the membears of the Cherished Teddies clan have similar physical characteristics, but very different personalities. A Cherished Teddies character is instantly recognizable. The bears each sport a rosy complexion, a downturned mouth and an inquisitive stare. In addition, most have a trademark patch on one paw to further give them that well-loved, tattered teddie bear look. In addition, on the bottom of each Cherished Teddies figurine is an official understamp, which lists the piece's name, sentiment and stock number, as well as its year mark.

On the other hand, each teddie is also very unique in its own way. And the teddies truly do run the whole range of personalities, from playful to pensive. Each comes with a different pose and outfit, as well as an unique name and sentiment, which give the bear its own distinct personality. The activities in which the teddies are involved not only help to highlight the teddies' personalities, but also offer a glimpse back in time to the days of youth and innocence.

TEDDIES FOR ALL TYPES

If you're looking for a specific kind of teddie, you may want to try one of the many branches of the Cherished Teddies family tree. While most of the pieces are considered general figurines, others are produced in a specific theme and are part of a series such as Cherished Memories, Santa Express or Happily Ever After, a series of fairy tale inspired designs. This year, a whole new type of friend came to the teddies with the introduction of the Cherished Snowbears. Over fifty series have been introduced to date, accounting for approximately half of the nearly 1,000 figurines in the line.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

In 1998, Enesco began releasing a series of pieces based on existing Cherished Teddies designs. These new pieces, called Rare Bears, are almost identical in appearance to the originals. However, the Rare Bears sport a gold understamp and a special Rare Bear mark. To date, seven designs have been honored with a Rare Bear counterpart.

TEDDIE FEVER!

In addition to the many figurines which make up the collection, a number of other products and accessories with the Cherished Teddies theme have also been designed for the home. From bells, frames and plates to candleholders, ornaments and musicals, there is now a way to spread your love for the innocent-looking teddies beyond your display case!

THE POPULARITY OF PLUSH

The family grew even further in 1999 as Enesco began offering a wider selection of plush pieces to complement the Cherished Teddies figurines. While two plush pieces, “Norman” and “Elsa” paved the way for a plush collection in 1993, the idea was slow to catch on and only a few pieces were released over the next few years. However, a new cuddly beanbag format was adopted for recent releases, and the pieces met with much success. Collectors jumped at the chance to be able to give their favorite Cherished Teddies character a comforting squeeze.

A LICENSE TO TEDDIES

While Enesco offers just about anything a Cherished Teddies lover could want, many other companies hold licenses to make additional products featuring the teddies. These products range from anything like home decor to giftwrap and greeting cards to mylar balloons to calendars to bags to clothing.

BEAR HUGS ALL AROUND

Whether you consider yourself to be a fan of the soft plush or the adorable figurines, or are just looking for something to keep you warm or keep track of the time, it is undeniable that the lovable

Cherished Teddies design has become a staple in the world of collectibles. Priscilla Hillman has a talent which we hope she will continue to share with us for decades to come.

THE MAKING OF A TEDDIE

Production: Priscilla Hillman's color sketches are sent to Asia, where skilled sculptors create clay models of the pieces. These models are then used to form rubber molds of each design, which are used to create the "white body" of the figurine. Small resin attachments are then added to each piece. The painting of the piece is done in steps, while the master artists handle the fine details. Finally, the name, stock number and/or title is printed onto the bottom of the piece, a registration number is handwritten on it.

Packaging: Each Cherished Teddies piece is wrapped in protective material, packaged in a hard foam container and then placed in a specially designed box. A gift card, registration postcard and Certificate of Adoption also come with every piece.

Pricing: Suggested retail pricing for Cherished Teddies pieces can range from under $10 for mini figurines and ornaments to over $150 for multiple-piece sets or musicals.

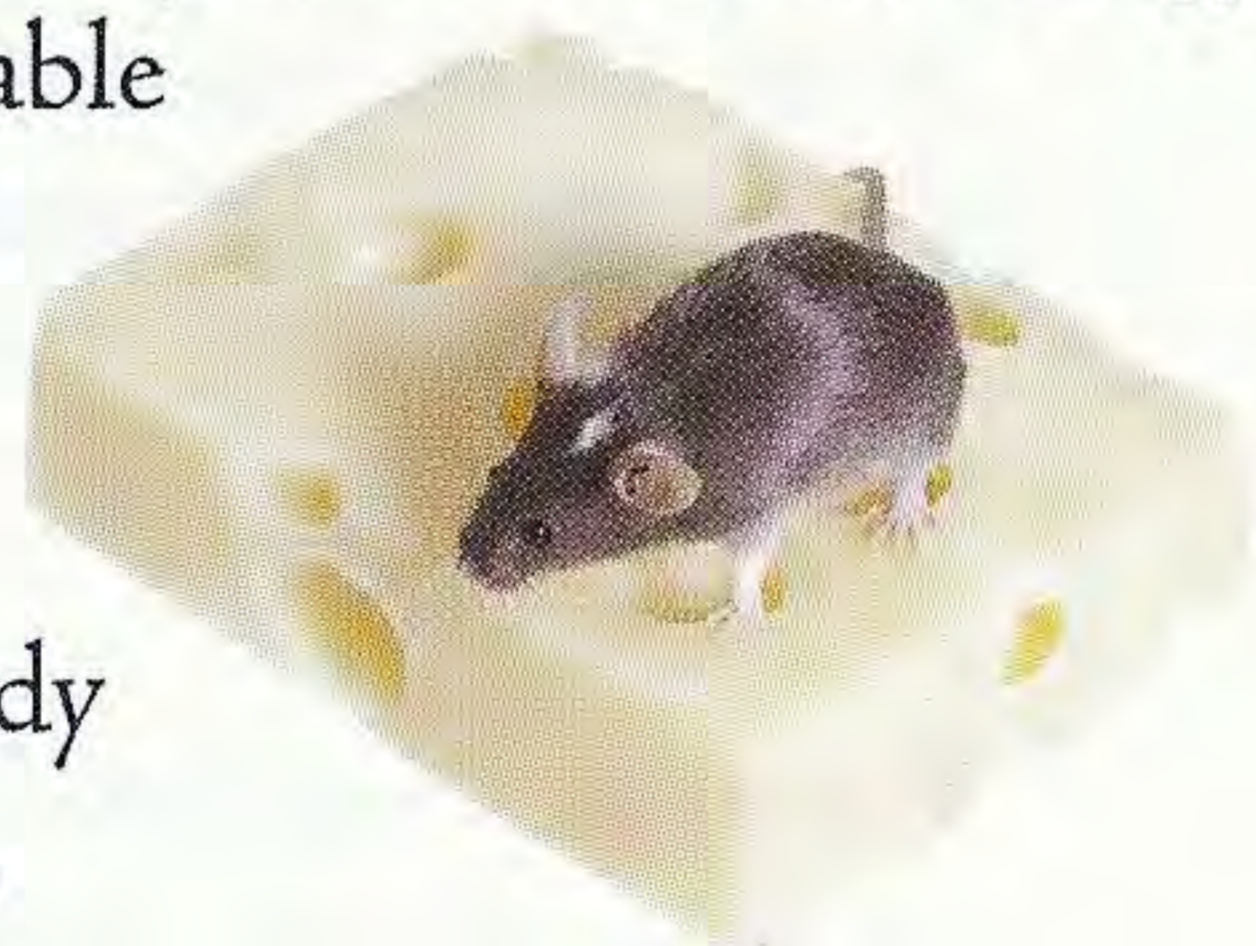

Through The Eyes Of Priscilla Hillman

If you had told a young Priscilla Hillman that someday she would build an empire from teddie bear figurines and plush bears, she might not have believed you. But her artistic talent and profound love of antiques first began in her childhood – fitting for a line of teddie bears!

Priscilla Hillman's childhood was a time of wonder. She and her twin sister Greta would spend countless hours drawing at the kitchen table. Or they would spend time rooting through their aunt and uncle's attic for antique treasures – fertile ground for a young girl's already-blooming imagination. Afternoons spent in the family garden would become joyous memories upon which Hillman would later draw for artistic inspiration. But she wouldn't pursue an artist's life for quite some time, first exploring the sciences with a botany degree from the University of Rhode Island.

After spending some time as part of the U.S. Oceanographic Service, Hillman realized that her true calling was in the art world. She went to work as an illustrator of children's books, creating a series starring Merry Mouse for Doubleday, and a book, Tumpy Rump, to date unpublished. The adorable creatures in these books would be loved by children, but they wouldn't take three-dimensional form until Hillman's life was beset by tragedy – although the tragedy turned out to be good fortune in disguise.

In the late 1980s, Priscilla Hillman suffered a back injury which confined her to bed for a long recovery. Recuperation is never easy, but she filled the time by drawing – not with a pen and paper, but with her own mind! She used her remarkable memories of her childhood and her love of nostalgia as her chief inspiration. With amazing persistence and strength, Hillman came through her injury with her mind full of pictures just waiting to be drawn on paper – or sculpted into form!

Having already brought the famous PRECIOUS MOMENTS® designs into the collectibles world, Enesco Founding Chairman Eugene Freedman was searching for some fresh new talent during the early 1990s. And when he saw the charming teddie bear designs which flowed from Hillman's imagination, he knew he had found his next big line. In 1992, 16 teddie bear figurines danced into the collectibles spotlight and never looked back. Within a year of designing her first teddies, Hillman was honored with a TOBY award from Bearworld magazine. Since then, Hillman's whimsical designs have grown into a menagerie of over 1,000 bears, doing everything imaginable from exploring space to trick-or-treating to golfing. Not a bad creative record for someone who used to be a scientist!

“Many of my ideas are based on personal memories from childhood. And even though they are my memories, I think a lot of people can relate the pieces to their own lives.”

Hillman's imagination knows no bounds, and she has taken her family of teddies into new spheres of involvement. She says, “There are always new ideas and themes to tie into each of the lines I work on.” Her teddies have gone on the road as carnival performers in her Circus series, come from all over the world in Across The Seas, and have acted out the literary classic “A Christmas Carol” in Dickens Village. And when they need a rest, they'll sit back and recite the alphabet for you – in English and in Greek!

So far, Hillman's well of inspiration has never run dry. Her joyous memories of childhood continue to influence her work, and may suggest why her figurines are so popular. "Many of my ideas are based on personal memories from childhood," says Hillman. "And even though they are my personal memories, I think a lot of people can relate the pieces to their own lives."

Many Cherished Teddies pieces center around a Christmas theme. Reflecting on the holiday, Hillman recounts: "Every year my family would go to my Aunt's house for Christmas. She had no children and she lived in a very large house that seemed to us children to be a mansion. It was decorated in a Santa Clause motif for the holidays. My sister and I would walk around the whole house exploring every room – it was magic After we went to bed, my mother and father, aunt and uncle, and grandmother would sit at the piano and sing Christmas carols."

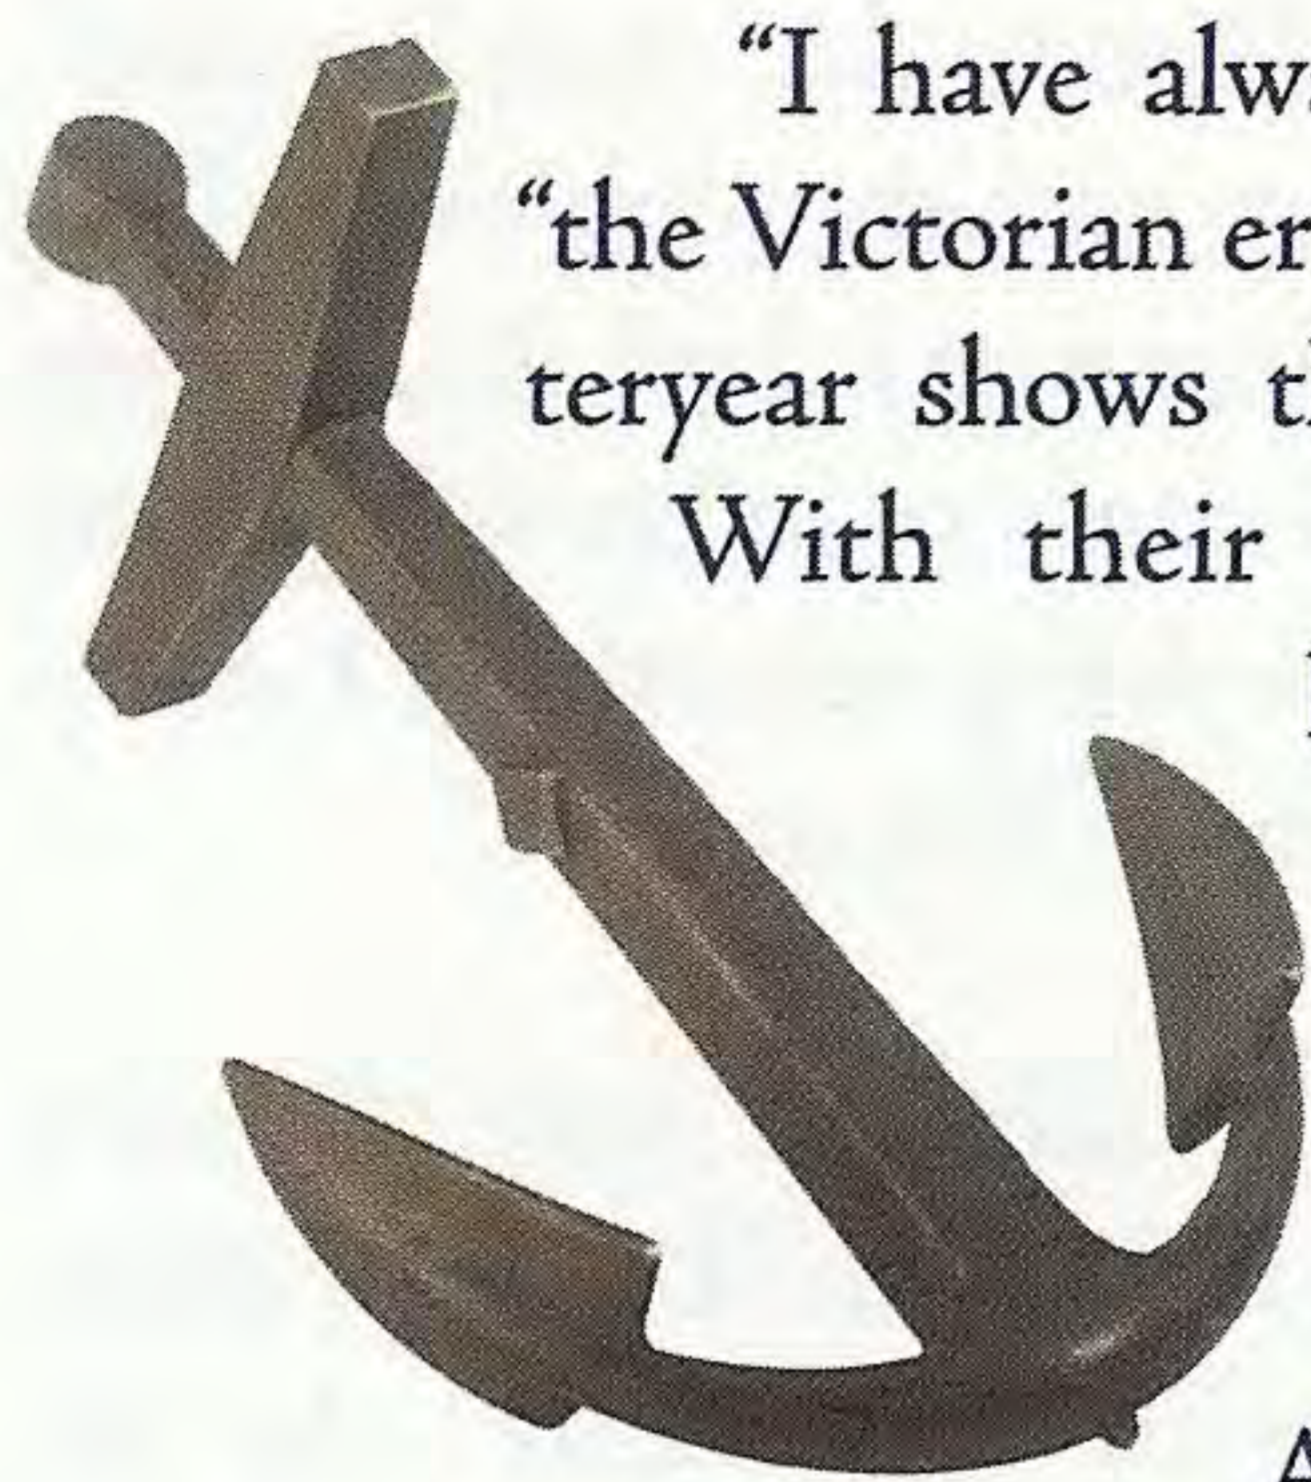

Yet, Christmas is not her favorite season – Spring is. And the Spring theme is prominent throughout the figurines. Hillman explains: ". . . because it is the reawakening of earth. I happen to love birds especially in the backyard. I'm always hanging up birdhouses. My sister and I have a contest to see who can get a Wren into their yards. If I don't see a Wren in my backyard, than it doesn't seem like Spring to me."

With her emphasis and fondness for family ties, Hillman has also been known to incorporate members of her own immediate family into her world of teddies from time to time! Her husband Norm and son Glenn have been immortalized as teddies in her collection, even though, according to Hillman, ". . . it took some time for them to agree on what piece they wanted to 'be.'" She has even put herself into her work, as in the 1994 event exclusive "Priscilla Ann."

“You never know when a new idea will come or what will inspire it.”

“I have always loved nostalgic items,” says Hillman, “the Victorian era in particular.” And her fondness for yesteryear shows through in her characters’ style of dress. With their lacy bonnets and ribbons, many of Hillman’s creations look like time travelers from the 1800s! This love of the past has influenced Hillman’s choice of home, a New England colonial house complete with a lovely English garden. As a holdover from her days with the Oceanographic Service, Hillman retains a deep concern and appreciation for the natural environment and spends a great deal of time working in the garden. She has also put lots of energy into her family’s house. As Hillman says, “I have one room which is designed in particular for the teddies and I like to fill the other rooms with period antiques.”

Despite her success, Priscilla Hillman has never shed her modest outlook and still marvels at her celebrity status among collectors. She says, “I don’t feel like a celebrity. Sometimes I have to be ‘pinched’ to realize that this is all real.” When asked where she comes up with the unusual names for some of her pieces, Hillman says, “From the collectors. Especially those who have taken the time to stand in line. Sometimes I take names from letters that have been written to me.”

And to those collectors who feel as if they are a part of Hillman's Cherished Teddies family she says, "I really enjoy seeing and meeting collectors at appearances and hearing how they appreciate my work."

"[The Work] has really developed from something I truly love to do!"

Hillman still wakes up around six in the morning to work at her desk and thinks up new things for her teddies to do. And her dedication prevails through each and every day and through everything she does: "I look for inspiration all around me every day." As she puts it, "You never know when a new idea will come or what will inspire it. Some of the best ideas come when I'm doing something I enjoy, whether I'm in the garden or at an antiques or flea market."

Like for her teddies, it isn't all work and no play for Hillman. "I always enjoy spending time with my family. In the springtime, I like to relax outside in my English garden or play with the neighbor's cat."

While the the work itself isn't all work either: "It has really all developed from something I truly love to do!"

Over the years, Hillman's basic teddie has kept its look of the classic antique teddie bear. As long as Hillman's seemingly boundless imagination never runs out and her cherished memories stay, there will be Cherished Teddies scenes and characters created for collectors to cherish forever!

SPECIAL OCCASIONS FRAMES . . . The best way to keep a cherished memory alive in your heart is with a picture. And a special picture looks even better in one of these new themed frames! For the newlyweds – and the not-so-newlyweds – there are three wedding frames. There’s also one for the mother-to-be, one for that picture of the baby and one for the ballet dancer in everyone! You can also celebrate St. Patrick’s Day with an Irish frame, or display a picture of that impossible golf course with the boy playing golf. Whatever the event, there is a Cherished Teddies frame for it!

MUSICALS . . . They say music is the universal language – and it’s loved by humans and teddies alike! Celebrate the love of two teddies by listening to “Mendelssohn’s Wedding March” with them! Or hum Christmas carols along with “Santa With Toys!”

ORNAMENTS . . . Your tree will look even brighter with this “out-of-this-world” teddie hanging from its branches, reflecting the glow of the moonlight.

ANTIQUE TOY ORNAMENTS . . . Who knows where these teddies are going? However, they’ve found some interesting beasts of burden to get them there! From horses to elephants, who will be the first to arrive in your home?

WET MITTENS ORNAMENTS . . . A new ornament series has been created for those with fond memories of white Christmases past. The Wet Mittens Ornament collection invokes memories of coming in from a snowy winter day for a cup of steaming hot chocolate. Warm up with your choice of blue, cream, green, lavender, pink or red!

PLAQUES . . . Enhance your holiday decor with these new plaques featuring your favorite adorable teddies. Two Christmas plaques depict teddies lounging by the family wreath and hanging up their mittens while an Abbey Press Easter plaque contains a celebratory prayer.

ALL OCCASION PLAQUES . . . Eight new plaques also make their debut this season, each with its own special message for a variety of occasions.

SHADOW BOXES . . . Look inside one of these, and you won't find any shadows. You'll find a great teddie figurine in a little world of its own. "Oh Baby!" invokes memories of a simpler time with her blocks and rattle. Celebrate your special day with "Happy Birthday" (maybe he'll share that cake with you!). If love is your game, you'll love the saying inside "Victorian Romance." When you're in the mood for a little recreation, "Sports and Hobbies" is the piece for you. And "Country Charm" will steal your heart with its darling teddie and touching sentiment.

TEA SETS . . . Now you can enjoy your morning Earl Gray with a new circus tea service! Just be sure the elephant doesn't spill any! And your teddies will enjoy their Easter breakfast even more while using their new "Easter Egg Mini Tea Set" from Abbey Press.

PLUSH . . . Ring in the new century with Millennium bears. Give a hug to the lovable "Val," a two-sized bear who puts the "Val" in Valentine's Day. Or if you're in the mood to travel, take a ride with a cuddly new Radio Flyer/America's Promise plush! One of the new pieces brings you the joy of Easter, while another invites a hug with a charming heart-shaped pillow! For an international flavor, there's the "Canadian Exclusive Bear", while the twin "Diaper Bears" reminds us all of those simple days of childhood (and fashion)! And you'll get and give love with "St. Jude's" plush as a percentage of its proceeds will go to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital.

ACROSS THE SEAS PLUSH . . . These adorable international critters have come from all over the globe for hugs! There are gals from Holland, India, Ireland, Italy and Russia, and lads from Germany and Mexico. There's even an American teddie to make you feel right at home!

PULL ALONG PLUSH . . . So that's where all those "Antique Toy" riding ornaments went – someplace where they could all become cuddly plush toys!

RADIO FLYER/AMERICA'S PROMISE . . . What makes a better reminder of the carefree days of childhood than a favorite teddie bear in a "Radio Flyer" wagon. Take this little guy for a ride back in history.

If You Like Cherished Teddies®, Try . . .

Priscilla Hillman's considerable talent isn't limited to designing Cherished Teddies characters. Since those adorable and antique teddies burst onto the collectibles scene in 1992, Hillman has been using her skills as a former children's book illustrator to introduce several new lines of creatures to keep those teddies company on your shelf!

Calico Kittens® – All cat owners know that their pets have personalities all their own. In 1993, Hillman unveiled this new line to showcase the antics and sentiments of the cats we love. Feline fanciers all over the world can relate to these darling creatures!

Priscilla's Mouse Tales™ – To some people, mice are pesky rodents who invade the kitchen. But the adorable mice in Hillman's 1995 collection are a whole different breed – charming characters that speak to the imaginative child in everyone!

My Blushing Bunnies™ – An avid gardener like Hillman knows rabbits. And in 1996, these long-eared critters joined her ark of creations! Sure, these bunnies don't exactly blush – but they sure do have a fashionable wardrobe!

Snow Folks® – Snow has the ability to invoke powerful childhood memories in all of us. So for her 1997 line, Hillman switched from designing animals to creating snowmen!

Down Petticoat Lane – In days gone by, a doll was a little girl's best friend. Hillman's 1998 collection features antique dolls designed in the same style as they were back in the days of our great-grandmothers' era – simple friends that are perfect for displaying, collecting, or just enjoying!

Collector's Club News

If you haven't yet become a membear of The Cherished Teddies Club, you don't know what you're missing! In the past six years, nearly 200,000 membears have joined the organization, making it one of the largest collectors' clubs in the United States.

With a $20 membership fee, you are entitled to some special perks which will make you the envy of your fellow collectors! You'll find out the latest Cherished Teddies Town scoop with a subscription to The Town Tattler, the club's official quarterly newsletter. And at the official club web site, you will have access to all the information behind the special "Membears Only" link. But that's not all!

This year's theme for The Cherished Teddies Club is every teddie's favorite daily drama – "A Bear's Life." The lovely and talented "Julia Bearon," rehearsing for her demanding role as Gloria Growlette, serves as your complimentary 2000 Membearship Figurine. You'll feel like part of the filming crew with your own clapboard lapel pin. And when this episode finally airs, you can mark your place in the book you were reading with the bookmark attached to your "Julia Bearon Collectible Print."

You will also have the chance to purchase two Club Exclusive pieces. The first is Julia's co-star, the dashing "Brad Wheeler," who plays "Troy "Mac" McBear." And even as heartthrob Troy roars off into the sunset with the leading lady, the eminent "bear-ector" "Marco Pawllini" is available to supervise the next scene.

How To Use Your Collector's Value Guide™

1. Locate your piece in the Value Guide. The pieces are listed alphabetically with general figurines listed first, followed by figurine series (listed alphabetically by series name). Other Cherished Teddies collectibles (frames, ornaments, plates, etc.) come next and the section concludes with plush and club exclusives.

Seasonal pieces are listed in the general figurines section and are marked with symbols denoting the appropriate theme. Handy alphabetical and numerical indexes can be found in the back of the book.

2. Look at the handwritten registration number on the bottom of your piece. The first number or letter of this registration number is considered the year mark.

Figurines
Price Paid	Value
$30	$30
$30	$30
Totals

3. Find the value which corresponds with the year mark on the bottom of your piece (some year marks may not be listed). For pieces produced without year marks or with undetermined year marks, only one value is listed. Pieces for which a secondary market value is not established are listed with values as "N/E." Pieces that were suspended, but were returned to production are noted with a triangle (Δ).

4. Record the original price that you paid and the current value of the piece in the boxes at the bottom.

5. Transfer the totals from each page to the "Total Value Of My Collection" worksheets on pages 157-158. Add all of the totals together to determine the overall value of your collection. Use a pencil so you can change the totals as your collection grows!

	Valentine's Day		Halloween
	St. Patrick's Day		Thanksgiving
	Spring/Easter		Winter/Christmas

Figurines

Eight years and hundreds of figurines after the first bear made its debut, Priscilla Hillman's wild family of bears is still growing. This year, a new clan of bears joined the Cherished Teddies family, invoking the age-old themes of childhood pleasures and holiday joys. As the Cherished Teddies family leaps into the 21st century, these darling creatures will be ready to brighten your home for years to come!

Value Guide — Cherished Teddies®

Series

The famous Cherished Teddies are known for spreading far beyond ordinary figurines! Many of them are available in their own series, based around a theme like travel, the circus or even the Greek alphabet. New series for 2000 include Angels & Flowers, Bear Business, Bonnets And Bows, Cherished Snowbears, The Friends Collection, Childhood Memories, and Radio Flyer/America's Promise.

"The Cherished One"
 We gather 'round at Christmastime
 To honor Jesus' birth,
 The day He came down from above
 To live with us on earth
 Each one of us will play our role
 Remembering that day
 When shepherds, kings and wisemen came
 To kneel and bow and pray
 To know that we are only bears.
 Though cherished we may be
 Be you, we humbly share our love
 Through this Nativity

Cherished Teddies® As Gift And Garnish

Decorating your home with your favorite Cherished Teddies figurines can be an exciting project! There are many ways to show off your collection. Displays aren't just for curio cabinets anymore. Your little bears can turn the most unsuspecting places into a work of art. Remember, limitations don't exist when it comes to how, when or where to spotlight your beloved bears. The only question is "Why?" And that's because you love them! So read the ideas below and don't delay with setting up your own display!

1. A Jack-O-Lantern does not always have to be scary . . . especially when accompanied by a Cherished Teddies figurine. Adding "Ed," the pumpkin-toting bear, to fall-colored leaves, candy corns and a real pumpkin makes for the perfect Halloween look.

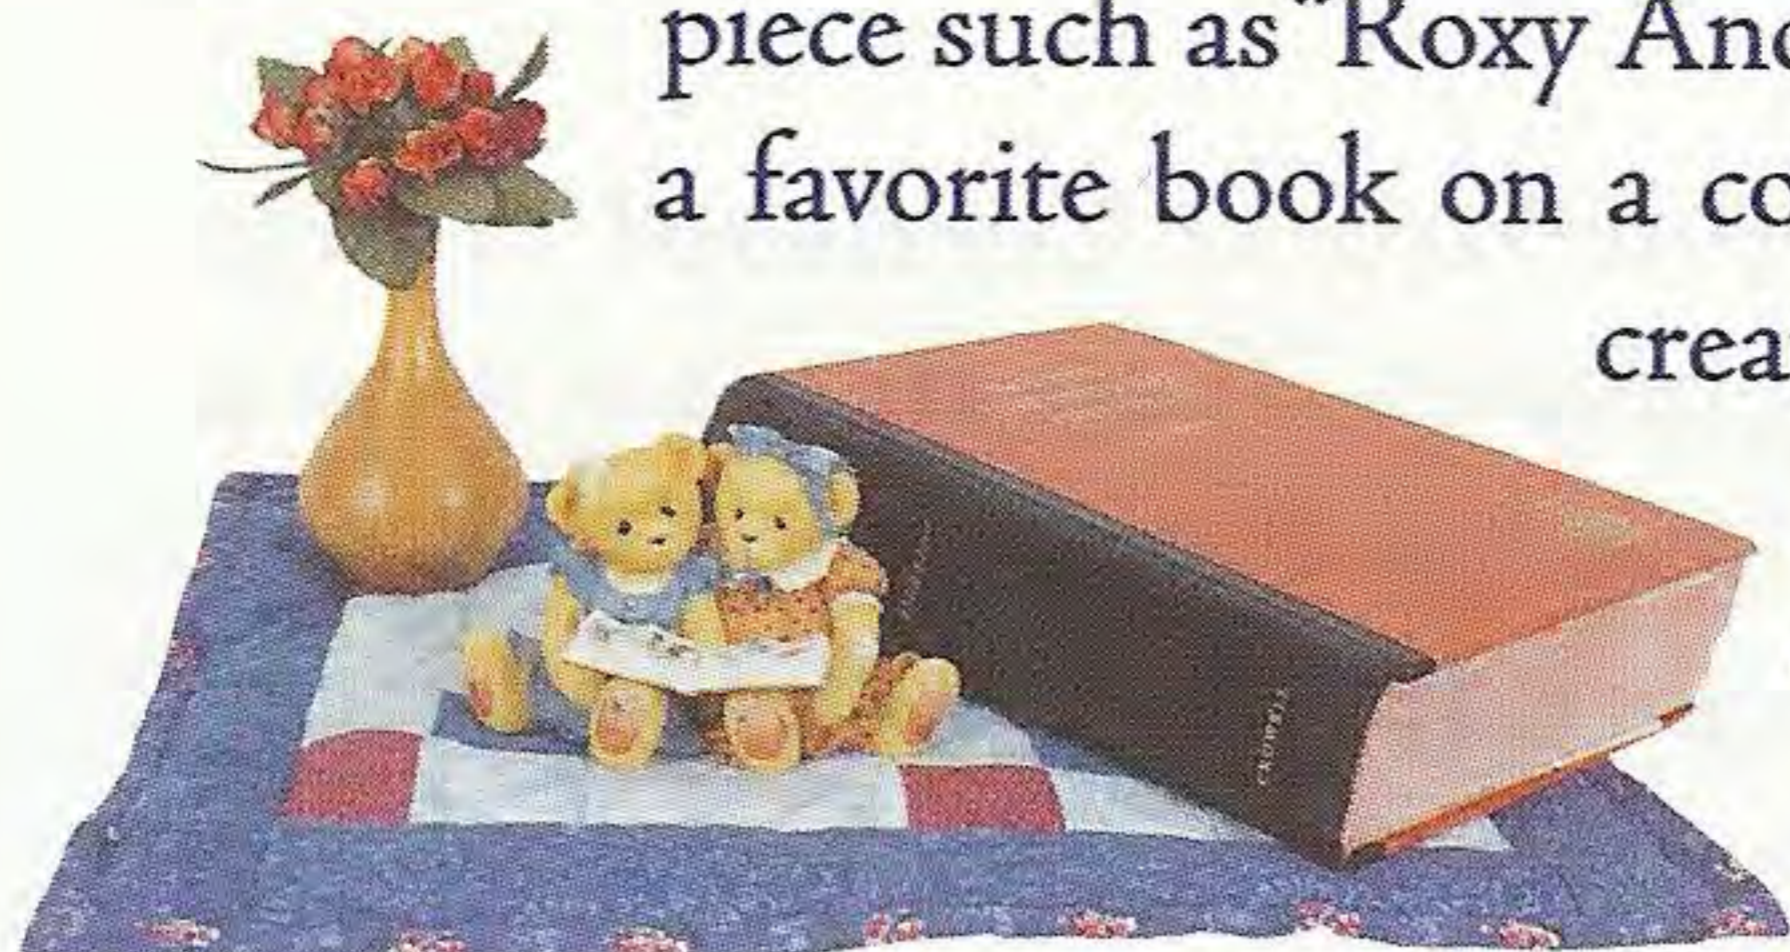

Add more friends like "Hazel," "Rex" and "Stacie," all decked out in their Halloween best, and the "Halloween House" for a complete Halloween display. Place the arrangement in the window to greet trick-or-treaters (remembering to remove it from the window during the daylight, as the sun can fade the paint).

2. For the holidays, encompass all the things your family and friends can enjoy: wonderful scents of cinnamon and vanilla, picture-perfect potpourri, and your favorite festive holiday Cherished Teddies figurines. For the hallway, bathroom or guest room, you can place "Grace," "Evan" and "Angela" alongside a bowl of the seasonal-smelling potpourri, and viola – you've got a display. For a finished look, sprinkle leftover potpourri, pine cones or evergreen garland around the display.

3. For the bookworm in your family, why not have a display just for him or her in their favorite room – the library! Just by placing a piece such as “Roxy And Shelly” or “Humphrey” along with a favorite book on a coffee table or a book shelf, you can create a world of total literary imagination.

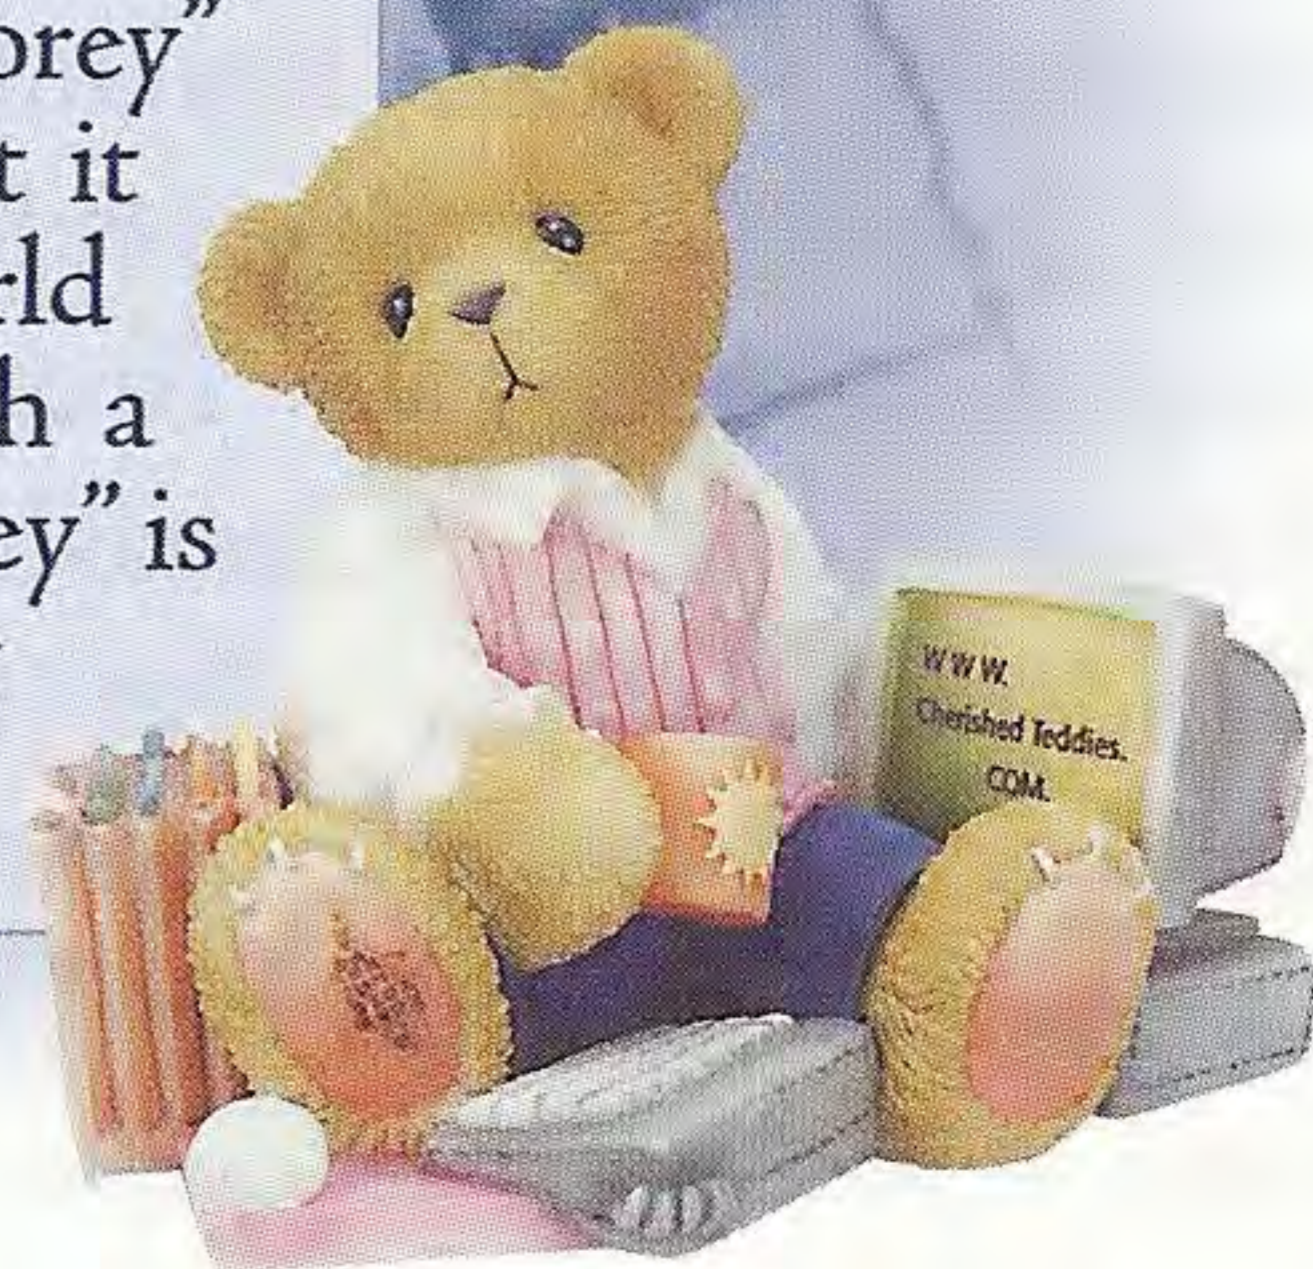

You can even create the display by genre, using a bouquet of dried flowers for romance and a magnifying glass for mystery.

4. You can decorate for just about any holiday with your collection. For example, how about creating a display for St. Patrick's Day. Use “Irish Girl,” one of Cherished Teddies plush bears. This cuddly, soft and well dressed cutie is already adorning the Irish green, so all you need to do is decorate around her with miniature banners and party hats . . . and “Erin!” For a finishing touch, you can garnish off the display with real clovers from your yard. If you've got the luck of the Irish, you may even find a four-leaf clover!

Collecting On The Job

Looking for the perfect gift for your hard-working assistant or favorite boss? “Corey” is the answer. This bear knows what it takes to survive the busy working world of the new millennium. Armed with a PC and his working documents, “Corey” is ready to compute his way onto your gift-giving list!

Cherished Teddies® For Sale

If you collect Cherished Teddies figurines, you may have a particular piece that you've always wanted, but can't seem to find. It doesn't matter which one – it could be the one you've always thought was darling, the one that will finally complete your set of Down Strawberry Lane, or just the one to fill up that empty space on your collectibles shelf. Either way, you still haven't found it and you really need to know where to turn to look.

WHAT MAKES THAT BEAR SO RARE?

There are several factors which can make a particular piece difficult to find. Like most lines of collectibles, Cherished Teddies products are not produced in vast quantities for an indefinite period of time. From time to time, Enesco finds it necessary to retire certain pieces. After all, Priscilla Hillman comes up with numerous ideas for new figurines every year, and some older pieces have to be retired to make way for the new ones. When a piece is retired, its mold is destroyed so that it can never be made again.

Demand for the piece eventually outnumbers the supply, and the value and rarity of the piece increase. Suspension can also affect a piece's rarity. When a piece is suspended, it is no longer produced by the manufacturer, but the mold is not broken as suspended pieces may eventually return to production. So be careful when buying a suspending piece for an inflated price on the secondary market as it may someday return to regular retail outlets at retail price.

Limited and exclusive items, or items which are sold only to certain retail stores or catalogs, are also generally harder to find than others. That is because they were only available for a specific amount of time or at a specific location. These pieces range from those offered at specific events to those offered only internationally. Club pieces, which are only offered for a specific amount of time and only to members of the club, are also often high in demand, especially after that club year has ended.

But don't give up hope! There are still many ways to find that special piece you're looking for. The secondary market is where you'll want to turn to aid in your quest!

SEARCHING "CYBEARSPACE"

The Internet can be a great help in building your collection. All you have to do is type in a search for "Cherished Teddies," or an individual piece's name, and you are sure to come up with thousands of hits. On the Internet, you will also find the official web site for Enesco at www.enesco.com.

Sights set up by collectors just like you offer a variety of information and services. The Internet also features message boards for collectible items such as Cherished Teddies pieces. These boards enable you to exchange Cherished Teddies information with other collectors and make a few friends, one of whom may have that elusive piece you've been looking for! Auction sites are another popular option for those collectors looking to buy or sell Cherished Teddies pieces. These sites also offer a chance to do some comparison shopping. They allow you to see at what prices people are selling particular pieces, as well as what others are paying for them.

But always remember that you can never be too cautious when shopping the Net. Beware of sellers offering rare items at prices that are "too good to be true!" Get a feel for whom you are dealing with and what the market is really like. Some sites, such as auction sites, have a feedback section regarding dealing with a particular buyer or seller.

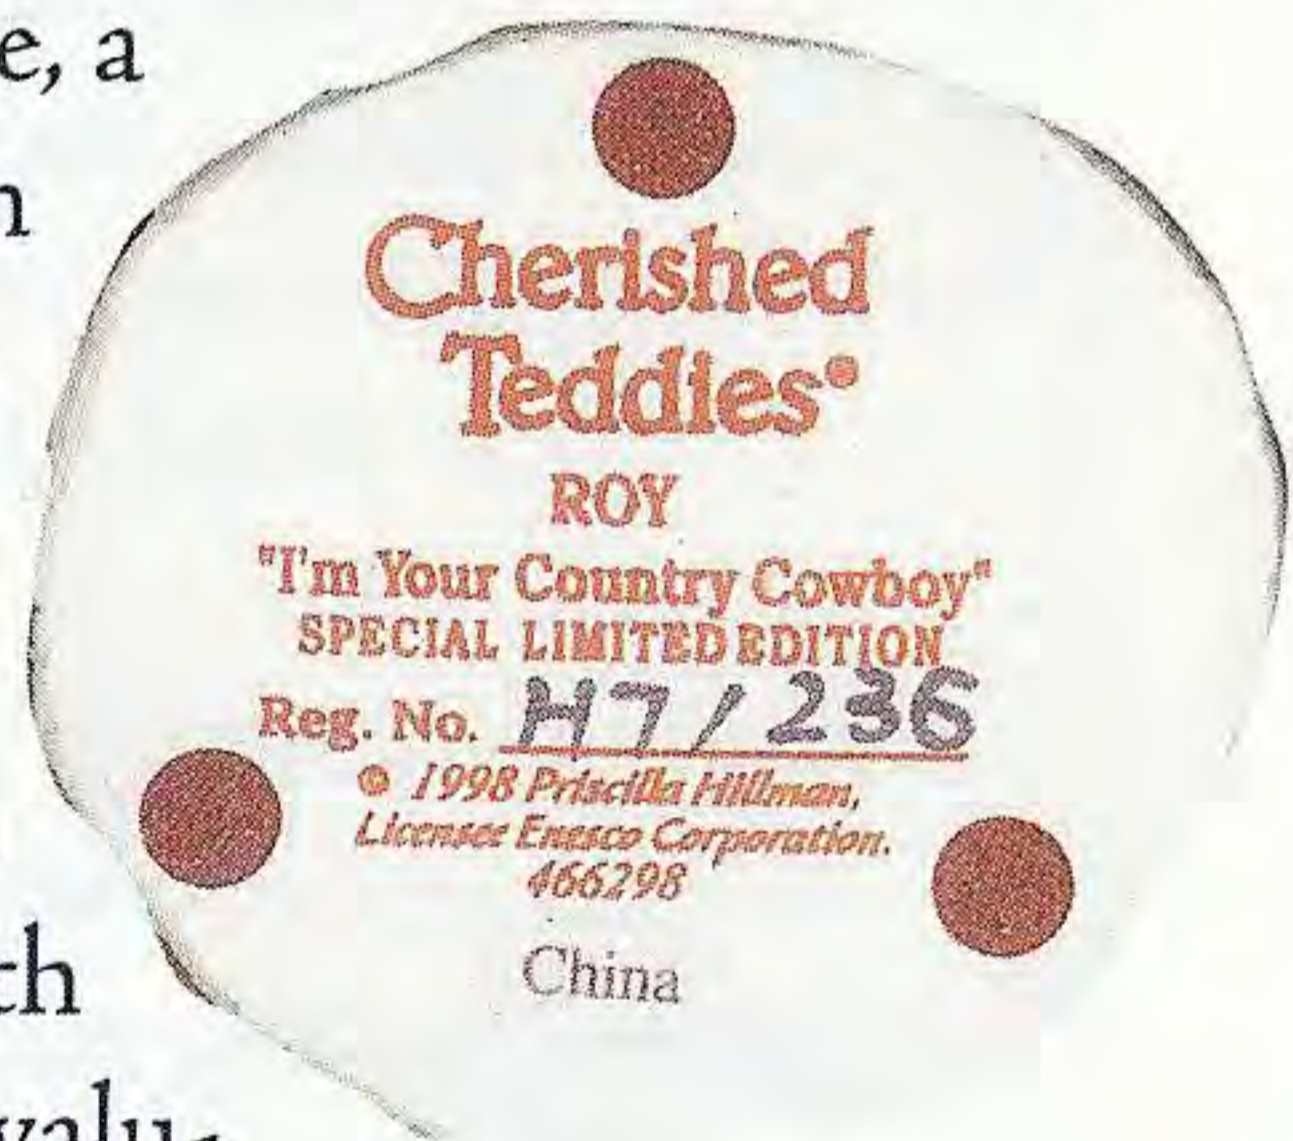

CONTINUING THE QUEST

Don't overlook your favorite collectibles stores, even when searching for a hard-to-find or retired piece. Retailers sometimes have a back stock of collectibles that are limited in edition or have been taken out of production. Even if your retailer does not have the piece you are looking for in stock, he or she may be able to put you in touch with someone who does. You may be referred to an exchange service, which will send you a regular publication that lists collectibles for sale in exchange for a small fee. Even the classified ads in your local newspaper may be a place to find that special figurine.

GETTING THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

Before you open your checkbook, there are some things you need to know about collecting Cherished Teddies figurines. As with any collectible item, there are many factors which can diminish or increase the value of a figurine.

You will find a year mark on the bottom of each figurine which has been produced since 1993. Only a random letter appeared beside the written registration number before this time. This year mark serves to designate the year in which that particular figurine was created (the year 2000 is denoted with the roman numeral "MM"). The first number represents that year. For instance, a "5" before the registration number would mean that your figurine was created in 1995. It is important to remember that pieces which are released in the spring may have the previous year's mark, as it represents the year in which the piece was shipped to the retailer. As with most lines, earlier year marks tend to be more valuable to collectors, even if the piece is still current. Therefore, a piece that is currently available in regular retail outlets may have a secondary market value for that same design with an earlier year mark.

No matter how well you care for your Cherished Teddies pieces, they may still get chipped or damaged. Keep in mind that even if you repair the figurine, it will be worth less than its flawless counterpart. And when obtaining a figurine, be sure to check for damage which might prevent its resale. Also, in order for a piece to be considered in "mint condition," and consequently command top value, it needs to be in its original box with all paperwork, including its Certificate of Adoption. Chances are that you will still be able to sell your figurine without its packaging and paperwork, but it won't be worth as much as one in mint condition.

While the secondary market may seem complicated, it is really a lot of fun. Don't be afraid to pursue different avenues to see which is the best method of buying, selling and trading for you! And remember that while a piece may not always have monetary value to everyone, what's important is that it has sentimental value to you. After all, sentiment is what the Cherished Teddies collection is all about. Happy hunting!

Teddies Of A Different Color

Just as no two people are exactly alike, neither are two Cherished Teddies figurines. Since every Cherished Teddies piece is created individually, each is different in its own way. Any noticeable difference between two pieces of the same design is called a variation. Variations occur in many forms. Some of the more frequent variations include color changes, design changes and spelling errors. Here are some common variations that have been discovered and may increase the value of the piece:

SHOWING THEIR TRUE COLORS

Allison & Alexandria (#127981) – Always the epitome of fashion, “Allison” loves to show off her wardrobe! While she first appeared in the market wearing an orange-dotted dress, a variation shows her in a blue-dotted version.

To Come (#127949) – Graduation day is twice as nice with two different colored tassels! In most cases, this little boy entered the graduation hall wearing a blue tassel on the end of his cap, but some collectors found him donning a white tassel.

The Best Is Yet

Brett (#302457) – We all know that fairies possess a certain amount of magic. The “Tinkerbear” on “Brett’s” shoulder can’t help but show off magical powers with a switch in wing color from pink to white.

Erica (#176028) – Huskies are famous for their beauty, but this beautiful husky is even more memorable for other reasons! One of the dog's paws was left unpainted in some pieces, and it is reported that in a separate variation, "Erica" depicts "man's best friend" with one black eye and one blue eye!

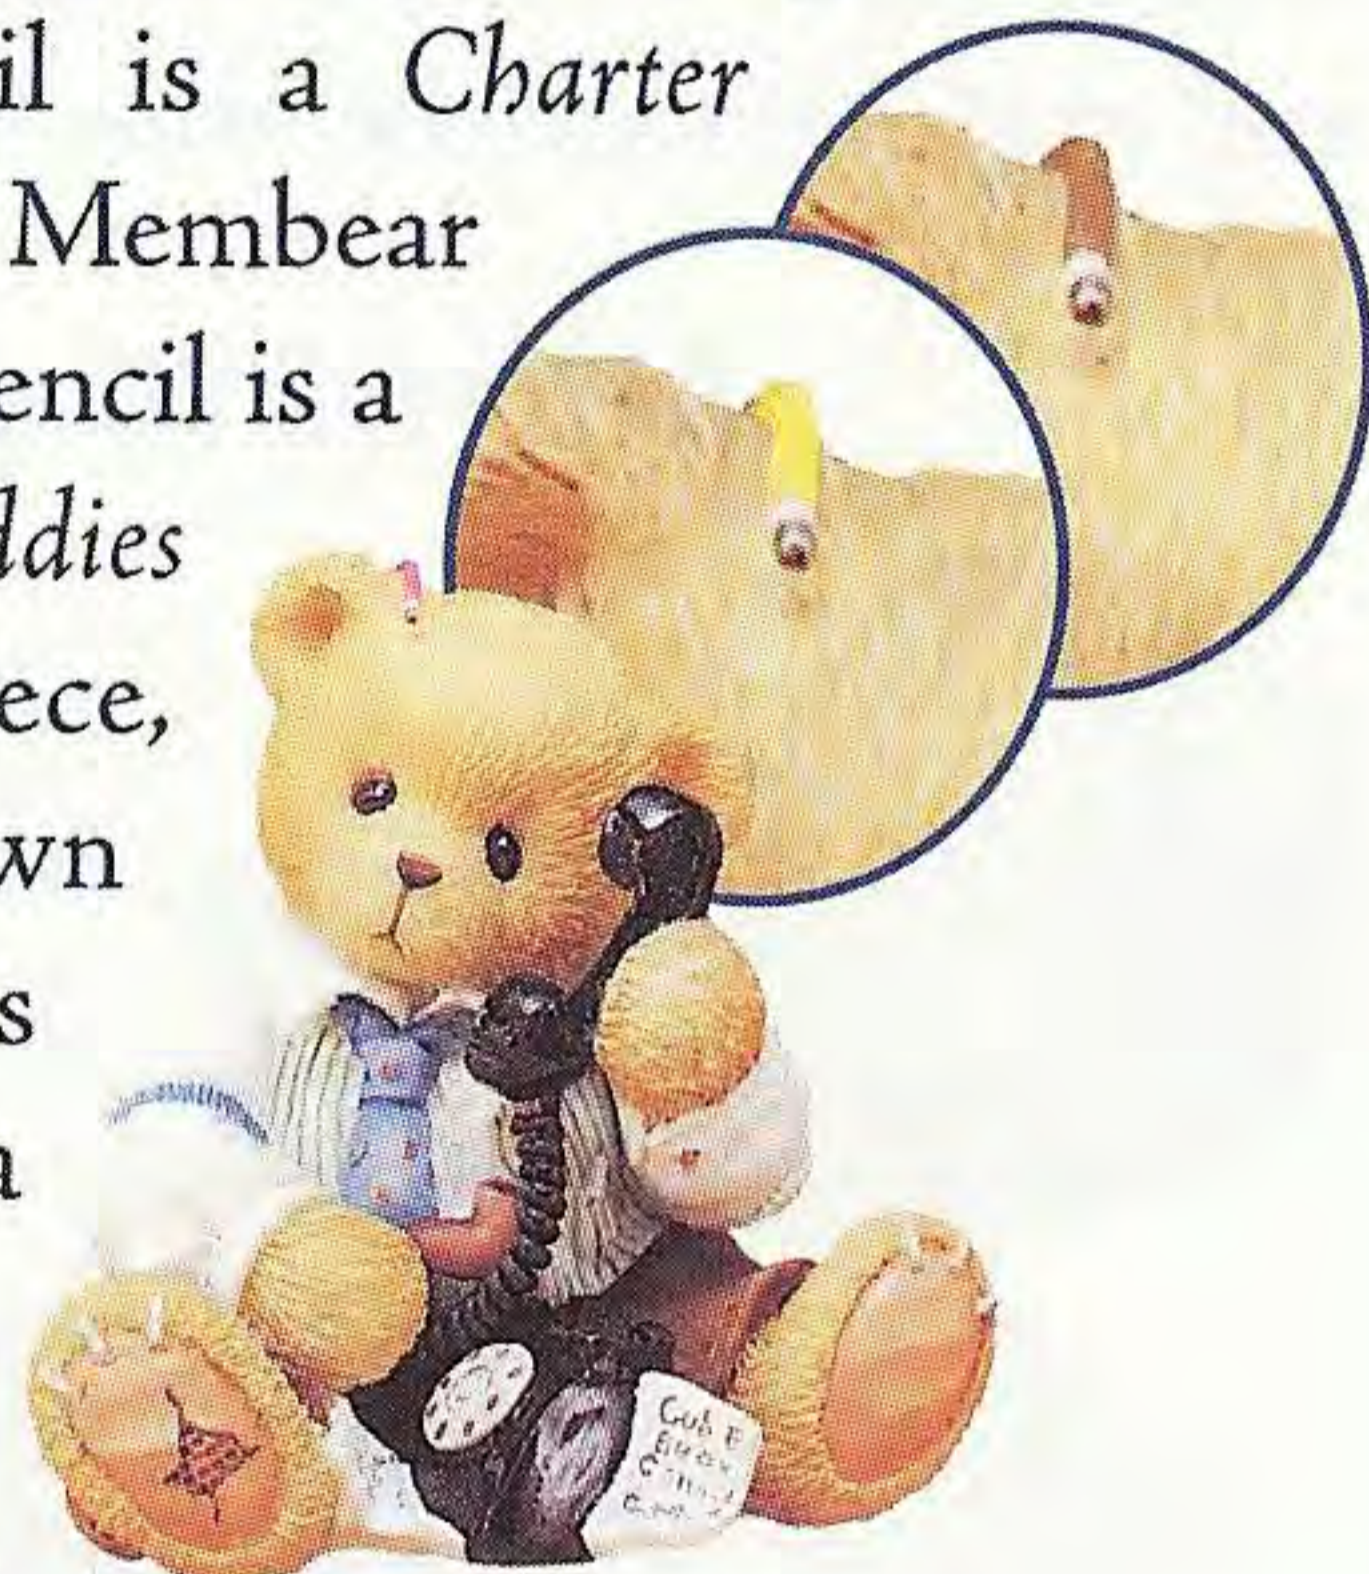

Identity Crisis

A common variation among the Cherished Teddies figurines is having the wrong name printed on the understamp. Here are some of the correct piece names followed by the names found on their understamps:

- Ella – Thelma
- James – Candace
- Kathleen – Sean
- Mary Jane – Amelia
- Sven & Liv – Cathy

R. Harrison Hartford (#CT002) –

While the red pencil is a Charter Cherished Teddies Club Membear piece and the yellow pencil is a regular Cherished Teddies Club Membear piece, what does the brown pencil mean? It means that you have found a rare variation!

A NEW DESIGN FOR A NEW DAY

Brandon (#354252) –

Collectors should consider it a "score" if they find the rare "Brandon" variation which features hockey player "Brandon" without the "CT" emblem on his jersey.

Franz (#202436) – Along with some knowledge, culture and many interesting stories, the variation of this international adventurer seems to have gained an extra feather in his hat during his travels!

Freda And Tina (#911747) - In some cases, these girls decided that they could play with words as well as with their tea set. A variation shows the book title that one of the teddies holds as "Tea for Too" rather than "Tea for Two."

Heart To Heart (#CRT240) - This romantic couple may cause collectors to do a double take! While the original piece features a boy and a girl sharing a little talk on a park bench, a variation soon appeared with two girls on the bench! Furthermore in some versions, the bench is facing backwards so that the flowers are behind the bench rather than in front.

Lily (#202959) - For such a little bear, this teddy has sure caused a lot of confusion! Three variations have been reported on this adorable piece. Some collectors have found that their understamp reads "997" rather than "1997." Others have found that their 1997 Spring Catalog Exclusive, featuring a small light brown bear has not been marked "Limited Edition," while the regular line piece featuring a larger, dark brown bear has been labeled with this distinction.

Grandma (#127914), Grandpa (#127906) - As "Grandma" and "Grandpa" got a little older, they found that their eyesight wasn't as good as it used to be, so glasses were added to each piece to help them see.

Is It A Variation Or A Rare Bear?

In 1998, Enesco began releasing a series of Rare Bears, which are very limited reproductions of Cherished Teddies figurines from the regular line. The Rare Bears are recognizable in several ways. They each have a special characteristic that makes them “different,” such as a different fur color, and each comes with a special gold understamp. In addition, a special Rare Bear stamp has been added to each of the special pieces. This symbol takes the form of a letter “R” enclosed in a colored diamond. Here’s a rundown on the major differences between the regular Cherished Teddies pieces and their Rare Bear counterparts.

Anthony (#476258R) – There are too many colors on the palette to choose just one! While the original “Anthony” decorates in a pastel blue, “Anthony” the Rare Bear prefers a flashier gold.

Cole (#476714R) – The darker fur and a “CT” found in a gold heart on his paw are the only real giveaways that “Cole” is a Rare Bear.

Crystal (#589942R) – The gold understamp is the most noticeable difference on this Carousel cutie. “Crystal” also can be distinguished by the authentic crystals used in her design.

Kent (#476560R) – This traffic director sure knows how to stop a crowd! While the original “Kent” appeared wielding a red “stop” sign, his Rare Bear counterpart encourages collectors with a giant “go” sign!

Marty (#476722R) – “Marty” has “gone gray” for his Rare Bear figurine, and he looks great! While the light brown fur on the traditional piece gives him a young and playful look, “Marty” has achieved a look of sophistication for the Rare Bear piece.

Miranda (#476706R) – “Miranda’s” teddie, which was a light brown in the regular line piece, has turned white for her Rare Bear counterpart.

Tanna (#476595R) – “Tanna” and her cubs have all changed their look for the Rare Bear piece! While the cubs have all gone with a darker fur color, “Tanna” arrives on the scene with a lighter, whiter look!

Preston (#216739) – This travelling teddie seems to be multilingual! “Preston” the Canadian teddie originally arrived in stores with a German passport reading “Reissport.” The problem was quickly corrected, making this variation much in demand.

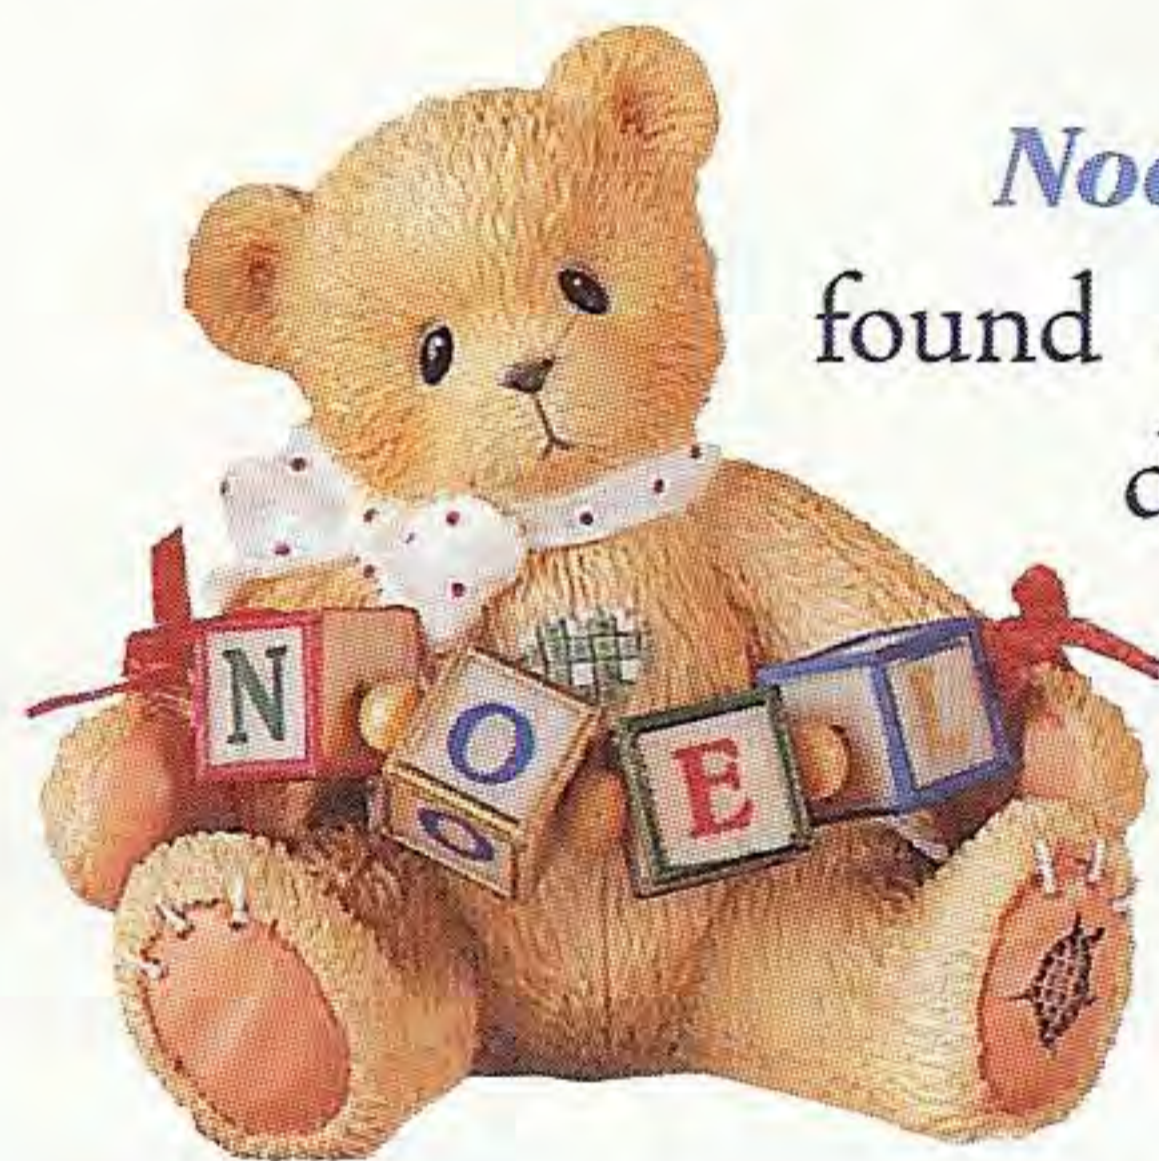

SPELL CHECK NEEDED!

Benji (#950548) – “Benji” enjoys a tasty treat in the form of a pot of honey, or “hony,” as a spelling variation on the pot reads.

Cameron (#508659) – The understamp on the variation of this Canadian piece reads “Candian” rather than “Canadian.”

Noel (#176109) – A variation found on “Noel” may be considered more of a design error than a spelling error. The blocks which this Christmas teddie holds in his paws read “ENOL” rather than “NOEL” in a few cases.

Robert (#156272) – This variation seems to be the result of a too-quick typist! The understamp on this piece reads “Robfrt” rather than “Robert.”

Theadore, Samantha and Tyler (#912883) – Check the message on this piece very carefully! Some of these figurines include a variation on the sentiment, which reads “Friendshipship Weathers All Storms.”

LIKE SISTER, NOT LIKE SISTER

Christy (#128023), Dorothy (#128023), Millie (#128023) – These pretty little sisters thought that the family needed a whole new look. So each one put on a brightly colored ribbon and got ready to shine on any family affair.

Jacki (#950432), Karen (#950432), Sara (#950432) – When the standard versions and alternate versions of these teddies look at each other, it's almost like looking in the mirror. But not quite, as one little lady adorns hair bows with polka-dots and a solid colored heart on her chest, while her almost mirror image adorns a bow with different designs, a heart that sports spots and a patch on her arm.

Insuring Your Collection

After all the time and love you have put into your collection, it is important that you ensure that it is covered in the event of theft, flood, fire or other unforeseen circumstances. When insuring your collection, there are three major points to consider:

KNOW YOUR COVERAGE — Collectibles are typically included in homeowner's or renter's insurance policies. Ask your agent if your policy covers fire, theft, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes and damage or breakage from routine handling. Also, ask if your policy covers claims at "current replacement value" – the amount it would cost to replace items if they were damaged, lost or stolen – which is extremely important since the secondary market value of some pieces may well exceed their original retail price.

DOCUMENT YOUR COLLECTION — In the event of a loss, you will need a record of the contents and value of your collection. Ask your insurance agent what information is acceptable. Keep receipts and an inventory of your collection in a different location, such as a safe deposit box. Include the purchase date, price paid, issue year, edition limit/number, special markings and secondary market value for each piece. Photographs and video footage with close-up views of each piece are good back-ups.

WEIGH THE RISK — To determine the coverage you need, calculate how much it would cost to replace your collection and compare it to the total amount your current policy would pay. To insure your collection for a specific dollar amount, ask your agent about adding a Personal Articles Floater or a Fine Arts Floater or "rider" to your policy, or insuring your collection under a totally separate policy. As with all insurance, you must weigh the risk of loss against the cost of additional coverage.
